List any relevant training qualifications, skills or experience you have in facilitating group learning.

Please provide any other information which you feel may be relevant for your application. This may include groups you have worked with, training you have been part of or delivered, or any other relevant experience.

The training programme involves completion of the Grassroots Transitional Justice BSc Hons Community Development module alongside the Grassroots Transitional Justice Toolkit Training programme. It runs on Wednesdays at the Jordanstown Campus between 10.15am and 4.30pm starting weekly 30 September until December 16. The training concludes with a two-day theory to practice residential January 15-17 2016. At this residential, trainees will be awarded with a provisional certificate.

Added value: Completion of this programme enables application for advanced standing to Ulster University's BSc Hons Community Development degree.

Costs: This training is being funded by the Victims & Survivors Service on behalf of OFMDFM.

I confirm that the information given on this form is true and accurate.
